SENATOR'S HELP REQUESTED

The Mattapoisett Board of Selectmen has written Senator John Aylmer to ask that he take whatever action is necessary to insure that the Massachusetts deficiency budget includes money to reimburse the towns for tax revenue lost by state takeover of land in towns (such as that taken for 195 right of way). The Selectmen requested the Senator to notify them of the proper agency to submit an application to for such reimbursement.

MARINE FISHERIES REGULATION

The town has received work from the Massachusetts Division of Marine Fisheries that they are unable to issue a Fish Seller's Permit to Mattapoisett because new regulations require the Department of Public Health to inspect the facilities before the permit is issued. Since the herring are already running the herring weir operation will proceed as usual.

written a letter to the Massachusetts Senate and House Committees on County Government requesting that House Bill 5810 for the establishment of regional governments be opposed. This bill is opposed because the Selectmen feel that small towns will not get proper representation. Mattapoisett is one of 38 cities and towns in the Plymouth region (included are 5 cities) that is proposed for this regionalized government. The 15 members who will make the decisions will be drawn from these 38 cities and towns. The Selectmen feel that small towns will suffer from lack of representation.

'Once Upon a Mattress'

The musical production of "Once Upon a Mattress" by students of Old Rochester, under the direction of Nancylee S. Gaucher, proved to be one of the swiftest evenings ever in Bristol Auditorium. It was fun, colorful and as well cast and performed as anything seen locally. Adding much to the luster of the play was the orchestra under the direction of Gary Thomas. The music was so skillfully added that the rich effect was accomplished with no consciousness of the instrumental power. It was a well balanced vehicle that allowed many of the performers to share the spotlight and carry the story.

Sally Jones displayed a comic flare in the role of Winnifred, the princess from the swamp across the mountain. Sally had many bright appearances, the funniest of which was a weight lifting segment, "I'm in Love with a Girl Named Fred", performed with Dauntless, Joel Hartley, and the chorus. Sally sang an excellent solo "Happily Ever After" in a true, pleasing voice and was very funny in a captivating manner. Joel Hartley, as the prince, was great casting. He had many comic high notes, "Opening for a Princess" and "Song of Love" were two that immediately pop into mind. C. C. Dyer was simply overwhelming as the martinet of a queen. She dominated the stage like a clap of thunder. In collaboration with the wizard, Scott Atkinson, C.C. proved the most enjoyable "heavy" in recent memory. Striding about the stage, C.C. blasted everyone in sight. It was a performance that could be described as charmingly formidable. Scott Atkinson will be everyone's favorite wizard after this appearance. "Sensitivity" with C.C. Dyer and the scene in the wizard's cave were done with great tongue in cheek menace.

The scene was set for the play and the story line woven by the minstrel, Jeff Dunn. In an unusual opening, Jeff hiked down the aisle to take the stage with his mandolin to spin the tale of the princess and the pea. Jeff sang the prologue, "Many Moons Ago" and had good comic business with the jester and Winnifred in later action. The jester, Mark Harris, had many chances to shine - "The Minstrel, the Jester and I", outstanding. Her rich, strong voice blended well with Mahlon's excellent voice in the duets, "In a Little While" and "Yesterday I Loved You". The most unusual characterization of all was the silent king, Peter Gaucher. Peter, denied any spoken lines, managed to create a thoroughly enjoyable personality out of the part of the king. His "charade" part was engaging and full of humor. Marianne Marso sang "The Nightingale Lullaby" in a very enjoyable and amusing bedchamber scene with Sally Jones.

The story of this bit of nonsense is familiar to everyone who has ever been a child. The princess has to pass a test to prove her royal blood so that she can be eligible to marry the prince. The domineering queen, scheming to maintain the status quo, plots a royal sensitivity test with her wizard. A pea has to be detected under a dozen mattresses. With a bit of help from her friends, Winnifred passes the test, the queen is silenced and the king regains his power of speech. Presumably, everyone lives happily ever after.

Happily, the well directed cast of "Once Upon a Mattress" enjoyed the whole thing and maintained an easy joy in the performance that was infectious. It was a good show that will be remembered happily ever after.

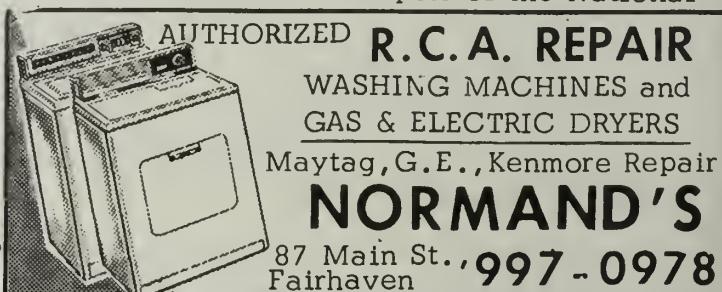

Others in the large cast were: Harlene Fearing, Jamie Bradley, Kevin Morrison, Anne Birdsall, Kim Barry, Judy Bernier, Holly Gifford, Arthur Blackburn, Ben Dunn, Paul Bradley, Mark Roberts, Steve Rulison.

Also, Cathy Beichek, Vicki Couet, Maggie Francis, Marianne Morette, Karen Silsby, Laura McLaughlin, Foxy Robinson, Debbie Clarke, Joan Lacey, Sarah Walen, Tina Francis, Diane Lemieux, Susan Johns, Shari Medina, Cathy Dunn, Sabrina Santos, Silvina Pereyra, Diana Thomas, Leah Morette, Debbie Washburn, Mary Tuttle, Debbie Stinson and Susan Buckley.

The stage setting of the audience chamber of the castle was of near professional quality. It was created under the direction of Paula Marini and John Doran. The many costumes were extremely colorful and added immensely to the spectacle. Costumes were created by Merry Lynn Stephan.

Sewer Articles: Meeting Tonight

MEETING TO DISCUSS SEWER PLANS

The Water Pollution Abatement Committee of Mattapoisett will hold an open meeting this Wednesday, March 28th, at 8 P.M. at Old Hammondtown School to inform the general public on the articles in the town warrant pertaining to the sewer.

The following is a report of the Mattapoisett Water Pollution Abatement Committee:

The Water Pollution Abatement Committee is concerned with the elimination of sewerage which presently finds its way into Mattapoisett Harbor through sewer lines, streams, and rivers. In the center village area of Mattapoisett we now have over one mile of illegal sewer lines that dump approximately 80,000 gallons per day of untreated sewerage into the harbor. The discharge pipe runs from the end of Barstow Street about 60 feet offshore in front of Shipyard Park. From that point it presents a danger to nearby swimming areas such as Town Beach where hundreds of people swim during the summer. A secondary problem is that sewerage settles to the bottom of the harbor in the Shipyard Park area, and occasionally a large storm will wash some of the sewerage ashore. The high bacteria count resulting from one such storm led to the closing of Town Beach for three days during the summer of 1971.

Although the largest amounts of sewerage are discharged through the pipe off of Shipyard Park, there are other storm drains and brooks, namely Town Beach Brook, and the unnamed brook which runs under Town Hall that also discharge measurable amounts of sewerage into the harbor.

For more than two years the Water Pollution Abatement Committee, along with the Town Planner, and our consulting engineers, Faye, Spofford & Thorndike Inc. have thoroughly studied all possible solutions to the Mattapoisett sewer problem. We held public meetings in Mattapoisett with Mr. Richard Greeley, the chief of construction grants for the Water Pollution Control Division of the State Department of Natural Resources, and with Mr. Paul Anderson from the State Department of Public Health. Through these meetings we have learned the limitations of what we can and can not do. We have learned that the simple sounding solutions are in reality not so simple. Most of all we have become thoroughly convinced that good long range sewer planning is preferable and actually cheaper in the long run than any stop-gap measures.

The following is a summary of what we have learned regarding the commonly proposed solutions to our sewer problems. More details will be presented to you at the open hearing and again at town meeting. ON-SITE DISPOSAL (Building individual septic tanks and leach fields for each house which now discharges sewerage into the harbor) This solution would require the condemnation of between three and seventeen dwellings within the village area. The Committee considers such a solution to be neither fair nor reasonable. In addition, it is doubtful that such a program would be 100% effective.

INDIVIDUAL HOME TREATMENT PLANTS -

12 PRESTO PRESS

At the present time such units are not approved for installation in the state of Massachusetts by the State Department of Public Health. Such plants only treat sewerage by removing solids. For use in Mattapoisett, disposal of the effluent is as much of a problem as is the disposal of raw sewerage.

HOLDING TANKS - Not allowed under any circumstances by the State Department of Public Health.

SMALL TREATMENT PLANT DISCHARGING INTO A STREAM - Because the Mattapoisett River is used for drinking water, and because all other streams are too small, Water Pollution Control will not approve such a project.

SMALL TREATMENT PLANT DISCHARGING INTO HARBOR - This is a possible solution, but Water Pollution Control would insist that a sewer outfall be constructed, and the outfall would have to extend beyond a straight line from Angelica Point to the end of Mattapoisett Neck. The Committee feels that this alternative is too expensive, especially in view of the fact that there would be no state or federal aid available for such a project. The use of tertiary treatment in such a plant would not change Water Pollution Control's requirement for an outfall since they do not consider tertiary treatment to be totally reliable.

SMALL TREATMENT PLANT DISCHARGING INTO THE GROUND (so called sub-surface disposal of effluent). This is another possible solution, but the only apparent location for such a site is on the east side of North Street between Route 6 and Interstate 195. A $10,000 hydrogeologic study would have to be done just to determine if a suitable area does exist for this type of treatment. Preliminary examination of the soil does not make this alternative look very promising. The water that often cascades across the A & P parking lot also indicates that this area is probably holding as much water as it can. If such a system could be constructed, the initial cost including the required nightsoil facilities, and replacement of sewer lines on North and Barstow Streets is estimated at $800,000., however no engineering study has been done on this alternative. This estimated cost is for a plant large enough to handle the existing 75 homes now using the sewer system. The Department of Public Health might require a larger plant at greater expense. They definitely would require that the soil in the area chosen for the plant be capable of handling additional discharge from future expansion of the plant. The net cost to the taxpayers for this system would be approximately $725,000 if average betterment charges of $1,000 per unit were adopted. This alternative is Article #67 in the warrant, and it is not recommended by the Water Pollution Abatement Committee.

UTILIZATION OF FAIRHAVEN TREATMENT PLANT (Article #66) - This is a long term solution that is endorsed by the Water Pollution Abatement Committee, and it has the approval of our regional planning commission as well as all involved state officials. Under the Federal Water Pollution Control Act Amendments of 1972, it is the only alternative that qualifies for state and federal assistance for construction costs.

This proposal is similar to one presented at town meeting last year, but the cost is much lower because it services only the downtown village area where the greatest problem exists. To see why this solution makes sense, and to see why the Water Pollution Abatement Committee and most town officials have endorsed it, we have to look at the proposal in two parts:

First we have the main trunk line which would connect a pumping station in the Eel Pond area to the sewerage treatment plant in Fairhaven. Since this portion is 90% funded by the federal and state government, the cost to the town is only $253,640, and it has a reserve capacity to handle sewerage from other parts of the town if this becomes necessary. Compare this to the $310,000 that it would cost just to construct a small treatment plant with required nightsoil facilities. Such a plant would only be large enough to serve the 75 homes that now use the system, and such a plant would have to be expanded to three or four times its initial size before it could handle the entire village area. Obviously for this portion of the project, the cost of utilizing the Fairhaven treatment plant is less (by $57,000) and we get much more for our money.

Secondly, let's examine the remaining costs for a pumping station, sewer lines, and sewer service connections within the village area. The total cost is $1,223,200 to service 400 homes, and since the elimination of HUD funding by President Nixon, this cost will have to be borne entirely by the town, unless some of the so called "Special revenue sharing" programs are passed into law by Congress. The important point is, however, that this expenditure is going to be necessary eventually regardless of how we finally dispose of the sewerage. The proposal to build a small treatment plant and replace sewer lines on North and Barstow Streets (article 67) will only eliminate the sewerage from those 75 homes that now dispose of their sewerage directly into a sewer pipe.

It will have no effect on those houses that have their sewerage systems connected to storm drains, streams, or brooks, and we know that Water Pollution Control will insist that all of these cases be serviced with a sewer line. In other words the $800,000 price tag on article 67 is really an illusion because by the time Water Pollution Control finished with its requirements, the total cost including additional sewer lines and expansion of the treatment plant will be closer to $2.5 million just for the village area.

In summary, the total cost to the town of Mattapoisett to connect to Fairhaven will be $1,476,840. Since the funding agencies require that we authorize the borrowing of the full project cost, we will have to ask for the authorization to borrow $3,759,600 under article 66. Not all of the town's share ($1,476,840) will affect the tax rate. It is reasonable to assume that the town would adopt betterment charges averaging between $1,000 and $1,200 per house, so that the net cost on the tax rate would be about $1 million. This would be spread over a 30 year period, and would increase the tax rate an average of $1.24 per year including interest. In addition to the increased tax rate which

Lenten Programs in Marion

The series of Lenten services and programs, sponsored by the Marion Ecumenical Council, continues with a supper at 6:30 tonight in the United Methodist Parish Hall, to which everyone is invited. There is no charge. Dr. John Edwin, pastor of the church, will consider the overall theme of "Lent Through the Ages" from the Methodist viewpoint.

On Wednesday, April 4th, the Sippican Choral Society will give a concert in St. Gabriel's Church at 8 P.M., singing the Faure "Requiem". A social hour and refreshments will follow.

A special Lenten program, details of which have not been completed, will be given in the Congregational Community Center on April 11th, probably preceded by a pot luck supper at 6:30 P.M.

The Tenebra, or Service of Darkness, a service especially appropriate to the season, will be given at 7:30 P.M. on Wednesday, April 18th, at St. Gabriel's. This will involve choral meditations, a modern dance group and special readings.

St. Gabriel's also has scheduled a parish will be paid by all taxpayers, those homeowners who actually use the sewer would have to pay the following charges:

BETTERMENT CHARGES: These would have to be voted at a town meeting, but could be expected to cost the average homeowner about $1,000. Homeowners may finance this over a period of 10 or 20 years, but if they choose to finance, they must pay interest (probably 5%). Principle: $100./ year for 10 years. Interest: Average is $25./ year for 10 years.

CONNECTION CHARGE: The Town will bring the sewer connection to the property line. The homeowner will be responsible for connecting his home to the service connection. This costs about $10./ ft., or between $300 and $400 per house for most of the houses in the village area. Those houses already connected to the existing sewer will not have to pay this charge.

USER FEE: Utilizing Fairhaven's treatment plant, the cost would be about $30. per house per year. If we build a plant in Mattapoisett to serve 75 homes, the initial fee will be about $150. per house per year.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

In response to the editorial "Dog Law Replacement?" by D.C.J.

It was stated that "This law requires the service of a full time Dog Officer" etc. This must have been assumption on his part for the proposed by-law will not require a full time Dog Officer, and can work well with part time services but I would not recommend this at first.

Although the title Dog Officer might indicate that his work is strictly limited to dogs, it encompasses the welfare of many animals any hour of the day and night. Mattapoisett is fifty-seven miles of town and our dog population is, or is nearing, one thousand. The people population, at this time, is rapidly growing, and it is inevitable that the dog population will grow too. Soon our summer residents will return, and with them their pets. I do not know of anyone who is willing to assume full-time responsibilities for part-time wages. This is a job that should be done well or not done at all. I highly suggest that you research your Annual Town Reports for facts and figures on this issue.

Some of you may not be familiar with the laws governing dogs, or your Town by-law which orders their restraint.

People need protection from dogs, likewise dogs need protection from people. Let us for a moment exchange places with the dogs. How would you like to be picked up for a violation of which you have no knowledge? Would you especially appreciate being hauled off to a strange place and being locked up? Suppose the kennel is crowded and you are forced to share quarters with large, small, sick, injured, or belligerent dogs? Impounding is cruel and unnecessary!

You have received a copy of your Annual Town Meeting Warrant. Read all of it and pay particular attention to Article 97, for that is the proposed by-law. It has been designed to treat dogs mercifully and to encourage responsible dog ownership. Administered with discretion, our dog related problems can be solved in our own town. The fine system will bring additional revenue as the county will refund a large portion of the money along with the refund from the dog license fees, which help to support our Public Library. The need for a Town-owned kennel or Town-shared kennel will not exist; however, humane provisions must be made for strays. Although it is my hope that court action will not be necessary, this by-law has provisions for it. Does our present by-law have this provision (Section 167)?

Dog restraint is not harsh and cruel when it is interpreted as protection as it should be. Restraint protects your dog from being killed under the wheels of a car; or less fortunate, from being maimed for life, as a result of being struck, from accidental poisoning and/or severe lacerations from browsing through trash and garbage; from disease, from attacks by belligerent people or other dogs; and it lessens the chances of your dog being napped. How does one reconcile true love for his dog with allowing him to roam at will in view of these potential dangers?

There are, I suppose, many well behaved dogs, depending upon how loosely one defines the term. I define well behaved dogs as those dogs who have completed Dog Obedience Training. They are truly under the immediate control of their owner, and rarely respond to distraction, providing the obedience is required of them each and every day.

If an effort were made to round up and confine the violators, of whom is he speaking? Isn't the real violator, in fact, the owner? Unfortunately, they cannot be impounded.

I am obviously not running in a people popularity contest. Because of my deep love and respect for animals, I find it necessary to protest in their behalf; for man does inflict much needless suffering and misery upon them.

For those of you who confine your dog in a small area, isn't your pet a part of the family? Can't he, too, share the home? A what better therapy for mind and body than a casual walk with your very best friend? For prospective dog owners, I hope you are well impressed; however, you have an advantage. Before you acquire your pet, give serious consideration to your accommodations, then choose the size and breed of pet accordingly. Pet ownership is also a financial responsibility. If you can't afford proper care for one, please be kind and do not own one.

Mosquito Control Program

The Mosquito Control Committee, with due concern for pollution and ecology, formulated a program which concentrated primarily on the treatment and elimination of breeding spots. This program was carried out in 1972, and, hopefully, a similar program will be carried out in 1973 and 1974.

Our threefold program was carried out as follows: 1) Salt water marshes -- We periodically notified the county of ditches and marshes that needed cleaning and unclogging. 2) Swamp east of North Street and on Mattapoisett Neck -- Flit MLO was applied aerially by Bay Colony Copters because the area was too large to be done by hand. From May through August Mattapoisett's Mosquito Control Inspector applied Flit MLO by hand to spots that were breeding. (This year, parts of Brandt Island and Wolf Island Road will be included.) 3) Residential areas -- the inspector applied Flit MLO to all catch basins in town and also to any low spots that were holding stagnant water and breeding mosquitoes. He did this approximately every 10-14 days.

We found that in August, because of the very wet season, there was need for an application of pyrethrum (by the county fogger) to kill adult mosquitoes in certain trouble spots in town. (If there is a need this year we will apply pyrethrum more than once.)

Generally, we were quite pleased with the results of our control program, especially considering that we experienced the wettest year on record. With the continuing cooperation of the townspeople, and hopefully w

Open Letter...

TO ALL MATTAPoisETT RESIDENTS

Nine years ago to be exact I became a member of the family at the Town Hall.
This was the year the Town of Mattapoisett voted to hire a town accountant to set up the Municipal State Accounting System. I was also appointed Executive Secretary at the same time.

I have had a very busy nine years. A great many things have happened, and a great deal has been accomplished in this time.

It has been a pleasure to work for the residents of Mattapoisett, and I do thank you for giving me that opportunity.

At this time I wish to thank everyone whom I have had the pleasure to work with, particularly those who were instrumental in having the wonderful party at Harbor Beach, letters H through P? If so, you are scheduled to attend the third "Dialogue For Parents" this Thursday, March 29th, at 7:30 P.M. at Old Hammondtown School. Dr. William Downey, Jr. will be the moderator.

The last two "Dialogues" have been interesting, enlightening and lively. Be sure to come. Also, any interested towns-people are most welcome.

Letter to Voters

This letter will explain more in detail Article 49 of the Town Warrant ie: Addition to the Fire Station.

We, the Board of Fire Engineers feel this is a necessary item in order to give the home owners that live beyond the Town water system the fire protection they deserve. By adding to the present station we would be able to keep the 5000 gal. tanker full year round. Due to keeping this truck outside in the winter response time is cut by app. 30 minutes because of having to fill it when needed.

A survey conducted last November revealed 380 large homes and buildings were beyond the town water system. More have been built since.

Another piece of equipment which is now stored outdoors is the new Rescue Truck "Rescue I" which went into service last Spring.
